

Devine Applicant Qualification System™

Enhance your organization's hiring and selection process

Devine Qualification System

The Devine Applicant Qualification System (AQS) is a one-stop hiring solution for small- and mid-sized businesses. Devine AQS allows companies to seamlessly track candidates through the entire hiring process—from the moment they apply for a job until the offer is accepted.

This tool will help your organization streamline its hiring process and is available online through our integrated talent management platform.

With Devine AQS, your organization is able to house job postings, candidate resumes, assessment results and interview responses in one central location. This encourages communication and information sharing between decision makers and locations. Additionally, this system gives hiring managers the ability to create and send customized prequalifying questions to individual candidates.

Most notably, Devine AQS acts as more than a typical applicant tracking system as it integrates with our wide array of hiring assessment solutions, such as Devine Salaried Selection and the suite of Devine Inventory hiring products.

Overall, the Devine Applicant Qualification System assists organizations in making better hiring decisions, improving productivity with the right people on the job, reducing turnover and hiring costs, filling positions faster and enhancing the candidate experience.

With Devine AQS,
organizations can house job
postings, candidate resumes, assessment results and more in one central location.

Benefits of Devine AQS

Our web-based recruitment solution helps organizations:

- source and attract candidates,
- identify and assess the most qualified candidates,
- promote hiring efficiency and effectiveness, and
- verify candidates' backgrounds and past job performance.